PREFACE

The ICAR Research Complex for North Eastern Hill (NEH) Region along with nine other partner institutes implemented the National Agricultural Innovation Project (NAIP), Sustainable Rural Livelihood Security (SRLS), Component III, subproject “Livelihood Improvement and Empowerment of Rural Poor through Sustainable Farming Systems in North-East India”. The project was implemented to demonstrate the strength of farming system approach along with subsidiary income generating activities and capacity building in diverse agricultural activities including effective conservation and management of natural resources to empower the farming communities and improve their livelihood. The project was implemented in the planning commission identified seven most backward districts of North-East India namely Upper Subansiri (Arunachal Pradesh), Tamenglong (Manipur), South Garo Hills (Meghalaya), Saiha (Mizoram), Mon (Nagaland), North Sikkim (Sikkim) and Dhalai (Tripura) during June, 2007 to March, 2014. As many as 131 villages were covered under 15 clusters across 7 NEH states. Various farming system models were demonstrated in identified clusters by the consortium partners in a participatory mode involving Research Institutes, Universities, Government Departments, NGOs, Self Help Groups, Youth Clubs, Village Institutions and the farmers. The interventions selected were site specific and based on the farmers’ choice, local demand and agro-ecological conditions. The beneficiaries list along with their contact number has been compiled to help the researchers, policy makers and stakeholders for implementation of agricultural and other development activities in the region. These farmers are expected to serve as technocrats for creating awareness on improved farming activities in the region and act as useful link between farmers and the experts in the research institutes, universities or line departments for future upscaling of technologies. The list will be of immense help for conducting future impact analysis, dissemination of improved scientific farming practices through ICT networks such as Knowledge Innovation Repository of Agriculture in the North East (KIRAN). The contact details of various linked organizations have also been included in the compilation to facilitate future collaboration and promote convergence and synergy in agricultural development in the region.

The directory contains contact details of 271 stakeholders and experts and 9854 farmers list along with their address, contact number and expertise/farming interventions. List of 271 self help groups (SHGs) or farmers groups actively involved in various agricultural and other livelihood activities are also enlisted with their contact details. In addition to these numbers about 8496 indirect beneficiaries were covered due to farmer to farmer interaction as spill over effect of the technologies as was evident by the visible impact and interview with the farmers. Such a huge task could not be possible without active support and contributions from the village institutions, investigators, cluster leaders, associated scientists and research associates (RAs).

The authors would like to convey their sincere gratitude to Dr. D. Rama Rao, National Director, NAIP and Dr. A.P. Srivastava, National Coordinator, NAIP-III, ICAR, KAB-II for their kind guidance and support in implementing the NAIP-III project in NEH Region and encouragement in bringing out this directory. The continuous guidance and support of Dr. A.K. Sikka, Deputy Director General, NRM, ICAR, New Delhi is also greatly acknowledged. The direct and indirect helps received from various corners including scientists, heads, experts from various institutes in the region, the members and charimans of various high level committees such as Consortium Advisory Committee (CAC), Consortium Monitoring Unit (CMU) etc. are also acknowledged with utmost sincerity. Last but not the least, the authors would like to convey their heartfelt thanks and gratitude to the participating farmers for their active involvement and support in successful implementation of the project.

The authors are hopeful that the compilation will be useful to reach the farmers doorstep through various ICT tools and other means for overall agricultural development in the NEH region.
