

TRAINING ON CLIMATE CHANGE ORGANIZED

A training programme on “Alternative Strategies to Combat Climate Change in Garo Hills” was organized by KVK, ICAR, West Garo Hills on 20th August 2013 under the National Climate Resilient Agriculture (NICRA) project for the farmers, farm women, rural youths, NGOs and extension functionaries. Dr. Tanmay Samajdar, Programme Coordinator, KVK, Tura graced the inaugural programme and welcome the participants with brief introduction of climate change. About 57 participants were participated including 8 extension functionaries from NGO, Tikrikilla, 14 rural youths and 35 farmers and farm women from West and South-West Garo Hill districts of Meghalaya. A team of KVK Scientists delivered lectures on alternate crops and cropping system to mitigate climate change in Garo Hills. The participants were also visited different demonstration units of KVK to aware about the activities of climate change.

